A silver car is driving away from the camera on a two-lane asphalt road that curves to the right. The road is flanked by a dense forest of tall trees, many of which have bright yellow autumn foliage. A white guardrail runs along the right edge of the road. The road surface has white dashed lines for lane separation and solid white lines for the edge. A small white sign is visible on the right side of the road near the guardrail. The sky is overcast and grey.
